

Marlin Services Acquired by an Affiliate of Gulf Coast Specialty Energy Services

March 09, 2016 06:20 AM Eastern Standard Time

HOUMA, La.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--An affiliate of Gulf Coast Specialty Energy Services, which is a portfolio company owned by Grey Mountain Partners ("Grey Mountain"), has acquired Marlin Services, LLC ("Marlin" or the "Company"). Headquartered in Gray, LA, Marlin is a leading provider of services for the energy industry, particularly focused on providing pipeline maintenance and repair, metal fabrication, and specialty coating services in the Gulf Coast region.

Steve Saucier, CEO of GCSES, said, "Marlin is a diversified service provider whose reputation for safety, quality, and superior customer service has allowed the Company to excel at successfully executing to the highest industry standards. We are thrilled to be partnering with founder Travis Bergeron to support the continued growth of the business. In affiliation with GCSES, Marlin will enhance its position in the market by joining forces with other GCSES companies, such as Frogco Amphibious Equipment, Inc., that complement Marlin's existing service offering. The collective companies connected with GCSES can now provide a more full service offering to customers with capabilities that reach from the Gulf of Mexico through the Transition Zone and inland."

Travis stated, "I am excited to join the GCSES platform and accelerate the growth of the business. Marlin offers the region's most experienced field crews and constantly strives to further its capabilities to better meet customer needs. GCSES upholds the same core principles that drive Marlin's business. With the support of Grey Mountain Partners and the combined experience and expertise of GCSES, Marlin will expand its market reach and open up new opportunities for its employees."

About Marlin
